Marketing Your Practice

with one of the world's leading practice development specialists

The dentistry specialty is one of the core specialties to take advantage of the growing facial aesthetic market. Do not miss out on this lifetime opportunity to run your own successful private aesthetic business. Ms. Khan has assisted some of the most prominent cosmetic dental practices helping them to transition their practices to include facial aesthetics.

K-T Training, founded by Yasmin Khan, provides a unique group of non-invasive technical training, which will give any injector the necessary skill sets to generate high profit and high patient satisfaction in their first year of business. The courses focus on practical training with a wide range of patients of all ages. The final hour of each course is spent on marketing theory which will leave each candidate with a focused plan for successful practice development.
